Project Description: A. Develop, distribute and update information and educational resources regarding Citizen Corps grant funds and programs to regional and local governments; B. Provide support and assistance to TEEX in the funding distribution and award process for local citizen corps projects; C. Provide assistance to regional and local governments to establish or enhance Citizen Corps activities; D. 2004 Funding: $125,479.85

Project Title: Establish / enhance Citizen Corps Councils

Project Description: Continued expansion of CCP in Bonham and rural Fannin County through identifying, training and equipping citizen volunteers. Trained CCP volunteers serve as an important supplementary force to career and other volunteer first responders in Fannin County (pop. 32K). Trained and exercised CCP volunteers will be available to conduct search and rescue and related operation at fires, storms, WMD incidents, and other disasters. CCP volunteers will be particularly useful in supplementing the volunteer fire departments operating in the

Homeland Security Grant Program and UASI
Allocations

region, including those in neighboring counties. By training a sufficiently large number of volunteers over time, program managers are able to assure that several working parties of CCP volunteers are available for deployment. The Fannin County CCP program is one of the largest strictly-rural projects in the state and has been able to develop its own internal training process. Thus with minimum equipment funding, the CCP program is essentially self-sustaining.

2005 Funding: $16,510.00

Project Title: City of Dallas CERT

Project Description: This investment will fund the development of a city-wide Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT). The City's Office of Emergency Management will work with partner agencies to form CERT teams throughout the city. The grant funds will be used to acquire supplies, equipment, training, and public information products including "go kits" of first aid supplies, backpacks with flashlights and other emergency kit supplies, and other items. The fund would also purchase training equipment such as fire pans (training simulators) and miscellaneous training equipment. The funds will also be used for training of instructors. This investment supports several of the priority capabilities, but most specifically the national one of "Expanded Regional Collaboration" as this funding will supplement the Citizen Corps, specifically CERT teams, all across the COG region and in many different jurisdictions.

Project Title: Crisis/Consequence Response Package

Project Description: This is a new project for Arlington to be able to better prepare for and respond to events that contain a mass gathering of possible victims. This would include the ability to be able to treat large amounts of victims, acquisition of special response equipment, and direction and control/emergency operations equipment and training. The objective of this request is to build out the response capability in the Entertainment District by purchasing and implementing equipment to address mass care, mass treatment, crowd direction and control, and to enhance our intelligence gathering, investigation and crime analysis capabilities through the use of facial and license plate recognition software. Other priorities associated with this project include the completion of several types of trainings by Arlington's first responders to include Incident Management and Emergency Response Operations. Project Description condensed due to space requirements.
